FAMILY ROAD TRIP GAMES

Print & Play Road Trip Pack

Six low-prep games for cars and vans. Print once, play all trip.

License Plate Hunt Spot plates from as many states as you can. Great for interstates and parking lots. Cut-out cards for kids 5+	Airport Bingo Five in a row while you wait for boarding. Works even with a full carry-on.	Story Relay Everyone adds one line. Cards keep the story moving when someone says "I don't know what happens next."
Quiet-Car Bingo Point-and-find bingo for low-energy moments and napping-adjacent hours. No loud shouting needed.	Twenty Questions Cards Category hints so nobody's stuck picking the Eiffel Tower for the ninth time.	Trip Memory Sheet A one-page fill-in diary for the drive home. Include a doodle box for the back seat.

How to use this pack

- Print on plain letter paper (A4 also works). No signup, no ads, no apps.
- Slip sheets into sheet protectors and use dry-erase markers to play again and again.
- The bingo and card sheets are cut-and-play; keep an envelope in the glovebox.
- Grandparents make excellent bingo callers and story-relay starters.

Tips for real trips

Motion-sensitive riders: bingo boards that only need quick glances out the window are kinder than reading sheets. Let motion-sick kids be the caller instead.

Low-energy drivers: every game here can run with you as a one-word participant. The pack is built so passengers carry it.

Van crowds: photocopy one bingo sheet per seat and let people play quietly instead of shouting "BINGO!" — a whisper wins count too.

Night legs: the license-plate hunt gets hard; swap to Twenty Questions and the story relay, which need everyone's eyes for nothing.

Mixed ages: pair a grandparent and a small kid on one board. Adults hear the rules; kids do the checking. Win together.

Screen-light: this pack is meant to stretch the time between videos. One bingo round beats ten minutes of whining — most trips.

Free to print, copy, and share. Made for real family drives — credits and license are in the pack README, not on the game sheets.
